

On The Scene Welcomes Patty Hayes

Patty Hayes has been called a kamikaze, doing whatever it takes to satisfy her clients. This passion is driven by her desire for a more powerful approach to event management, guided by 20 years in the hospitality and meetings industry. Patty joins On The Scene Event Management Chicago as its newest “Rainmaker”!

Her credentials in managing logistics for high-profile and complex travel incentive programs include Super Bowls, Olympics and American Express’s board of directors and senior management meetings.

Previously, Patty launched several Chicago-based destination management companies, working with Astra Zeneca, Bayer, General Mills, Northern Trust and Singapore Airlines. Patty’s career began at Maritz Travel Company, where she spent 12 years working with blue-chip clients AT & T, Georgia-Pacific, Toyota and Nissan, among others.

Patty’s experience in prospecting and developing new business while coordinating with creative and strategic partners will enable her to exceed client expectations. “We are extremely excited to have Patty join the On The Scene family. Her dedication to client excellence and Chicago event production is industry legend!” said Jay Weidner, Director of Sales.

This seasoned veteran knows travel and hospitality. She is actively involved with the Hospitality Sales & Marketing Association, Chicago Convention and Tourism Bureau and many other industry organizations. Our clients are glad she is with us.
