On The Scene Earns Accredited Destination Management Company® (ADMC) Designation

Offered by the Association of Destination Management Executives (ADME)

CHICAGO, December 7, 2010 – On The Scene, Chicago's award-winning Destination Management Company, is proud to announce that they have successfully completed the requirements for the Accredited Destination Management Company (ADMC) designation. ADME's Destination Management Company Accreditation program is designed to elevate professional standards and designate firms that demonstrate advanced knowledge and experience essential to the practice of destination management. The ADMC designation assists the meeting planning community by identifying and qualifying standards and criteria that are indicative of the highest quality destination management service providers.

"ADME's Accredited Destination Management Company designation represents the pinnacle of achievement for Destination Management Companies worldwide", said John Stachnik, DMCP, General Manager and Partner at On The Scene. "Since our founding in 1969, On The Scene has been committed to providing the very best in Destination Management services, offering world-class events and services for our clients. We are honored to be recognized along with the leaders in the Destination Management Industry".

For additional information about the ADMC designation, please visit the ADME website at:
